

Introduction

As part of achieving home ownership, potential buyers may not have the means or opportunity to save for a large down payment and closing costs. To help bridge this gap there are options available to assist qualifying borrowers with down payment and closing costs. Affordable Seconds is one of these financing options. This resource focuses on Affordable Seconds from a Loan Product Advisor data submission perspective. The terminology used in this tool will help you to understand how to correctly input information into Loan Product Advisor.

What are Affordable Seconds

Freddie Mac Affordable Seconds is a financing option designed to meet the needs of borrowers who require flexibility on sources for down payments and closing costs. Affordable Seconds are provided by an agency and create a subordinate lien on the subject property. Affordable Seconds require data to be submitted into Loan Product Advisor following specific rules, Tips for Loan Product Advisor Data Submission.

TIP: The agency providing the subordinate financing may use the term 'grant' – but Freddie Mac is focused on one primary question, "does it create a subordinate lien against the property?"

Best Practices for Affordable Seconds

- Use this checklist to review the eligibility of the Affordable Second.
- An agency providing the subordinate financing may term it as a grant – but if there is a repayment expectation, be sure to review the terms carefully to determine if a lien is created or the grant is evidenced in the land records.
- Ensure data is submitted into Loan Product Advisor following specific guidance for Affordable Seconds.
